

FAQs

Puppy pickup is right around the corner. Please schedule a wellness exam, with a veterinarian of your choice, now. I would like all puppies seen within a few days of going home. Most likely they will not be due for any vaccinations.

What do the puppies go home with?

The puppies will be vaccinated and dewormed to date, with a veterinarian exam and clean bill of health before going to their forever homes at 8 weeks of age.

What food do they eat?

I send each puppy home with a sample of their current food. The puppies are currently eating Diamond Naturals, large breed puppy lamb and rice formula. This formula is approved for small breeds also as well as all life stages, so you will never have to change formulas unless you want to.

When deciding which food to choose for your puppy, we recommend sticking with a food without chicken as the main ingredient. We've always done this to maintain an allergy free diet.

Puppies are eating three times a day. Please adjust this to fit your schedule (breakfast, lunch, & dinner). As far as quantity of food, the puppies share a large dish so I'm not certain how much each individual puppy is eating. Please go off of the directions provided on the dog food bag or recommendation by your veterinarian.

We purchase our dog food from chewy.com or tractor supply.

Do you suggest any books for getting prepared?

I loved this book. I read several books before bringing home my first puppy. Here is my favorite:

Do you recommend any trainers?

A local boarding and training facility we recommend is Monarch dog training of Medina county.
